Foraker Will Nominate Morton For Vice President.

THE COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Unable to Report at this Session and the Convention Adjourned Until 2 O'clock. Teller, DuBois, Cannon and Other Silverites Threaten to Bolt.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—4:30 P. M.—St. Louis is filled today with an anxious throng. All people who expect to attend the convention are here. They came from every state of the Union, and not a few are foreign tourists, anxious to see the great American people choose a president. There are women here too, many delegates having brought their wives in order that they may witness a sight seldom seen in a lifetime—the selection, by what now seems unanimous consent, of a presidential candidate. They are enjoying every hour of the time, and when weary of commonplace sightseeing and the talk of politicians, find abundant material for amusement in the scenes of havoc found in that portion of the city visited by the cyclone of a few weeks ago.

There was hurrying and rushing to and fro last night and in the early hours of this morning. The managers of the vice-presidential candidates were at work. Then there were others. They managed their own booms, if booms they can be called, and several seemed to think they had a fighting chance. They will be disappointed, however, for it now seems clear that the fine Italian hand of Quay has been at work, and the belief is general that Morton can have the place if he wants it. Reed men are more enthusiastic than ever, but McKinley has the call. Everywhere his portrait is seen and his name is heard. They all want to talk about him, and a vast majority of the restless crowd are McKinley men.

The first announcement of importance this morning came from Senator Lodge, the good looking chap from Massachusetts, who has a warm spot in his heart for the struggling patriots of Cuba. It was thought that the committee on resolutions would be able to give some sort of a statement, but the senator says the work on hand will not allow it. It will be this afternoon, and perhaps late in the afternoon, before that important committee will have anything to give out.

When the doors of the convention hall were thrown open this morning, and the young men who were to handle the crowd took their stations, it was noticed that more people found their way into the building than at any time yesterday. As delegation after delegation occupied the space allotted to them, the galleries soon began to show signs of life. Men and women filled the seats, and noted the arrivals of great men. When some popular statesman or politician took his chair his friends applauded loudly. This was repeated many times, and when the hour for calling the convention to order arrived, almost every popular man of national reputation had been well received, and was in an enviable frame of mind. Thus it was that the convention showed more smiling faces and was in much better humor than at any time yesterday.

The first business of importance was the selection of a permanent chairman. Of course it had all been prepared before hand, and Mr. Hanna is not the man to allow his arrangements to be broken. He has been having some troubles of his own these past few days while battling the unscrupulous Platt and the foxy Quay, yet he would not yield an inch when it came to breaking his program. Judge Thurston was the man selected for permanent chairman, and he was given the place. It did not take long to do it. The chairman is an important personage at a national convention, and the ease with which the McKinley men slipped their man into the place was a matter for discussion among those few followers of other candidates who still hope there is hope for them.

About this time there was a stir among the knowing ones, who have been keeping both eyes upon Hon. J. B. Foraker, that interesting statesman from Ohio, who is prone to do strange things when least expected. The New York followers of Governor Morton wanted some one to nominate their man for second place. They needed a flow of eloquence and a clear statement of their position. They wanted one who could, by his convincing argument, help them out of a serious difficulty. Foraker was the man. If they could induce him to present the name of Morton they were safe. There were several conferences, it is said, and many times during the morning the Republican leaders from the east seek the quarters of the Ohio senator. Each time, however, they were disappointed and went away, their faces sad. But they were not discouraged. They persistently conferred among themselves and with the senators, and just before the clocks pealed the hour of noon it was announced that Foraker had consented to present the name of Governor Morton for vice-president after the first place on the ticket had been filled, and William McKinley had been acknowledged the leader of the Republican party by all.

The first indication that there would be delay in the transaction of business came soon after the session convened. The order called first for the report of the committee on credentials. There was no report. General Grosvenor sent to the chair a letter from J. F. Fort, the New Jersey member of the committee, which announced that the committee would be unable to report at the morning session. There was disappointment on every hand, but nothing could be done. Governor Bushnell, of Ohio, moved an adjournment until this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and it carried.

At this hour, 2 o'clock, the cause of the delay in the report of the committee on resolutions has been made public. There has been much speculation, and many theories have been advanced, but now it is known that Teller, DuBois, Cannon and a few others have announced their determination to bolt in case the gold standard plank is adopted. There is a hard fight, but the silver men can really see no shining lining for the dark cloud above them.

Great excitement prevails at the convention hall. Teller's silver amendment to the platform met with defeat in the platform committee by a vote of 41 to 10. The silver senators at once announced that they must declare themselves out of the party.

The platform committee adopted the financial plank proposed by the subcommittee, with a slight amendment, by a vote of 40 to 11.

The probabilities are that the nomination of presidential candidates will not be reached before tomorrow afternoon, and probably not until Friday.

SPORTING NOTES.

Items of Interest to the Fans of the City.

Mercer buttons have made their appearance in Washington, and the East Liverpool boy's face is being worn by a great many sports.

The clerks of the clothing and dry goods stores have issued a challenge to the clerks of the shoe stores, and although no date has yet been fixed, arrangements for the game are being made.

Manager Morris has arranged with Niles to play two games at that place on July 24 and 25. Niles is booked for two games here on the 17th and 18th of this month, but the manager will endeavor to have these games transferred to Niles also.

The Hilltops defeated the Lower Hills yesterday by a score of 16 to 3. Batteries—Hilltops, Davis and Campbell; Lower Hills, Orr and Cassidy. The boys have a ground of their own in McKinnon's addition, upon which they have put up a good backstop, and will play all their games there. A league, composed of the Oakdales, Lower Hills and Hilltops has been formed, and they will battle for the championship of McKinnon's addition. The Hilltops are leading at present, having won two games and lost none.

THOSE DAMAGE CASES

Occupied a Greater Part of Council's Time Last Night.

ELECTRIC LIGHT WAS DISCUSSED

Statistics Were Read by Councilman Stewart, Who Says He Will Introduce a Motion at the Next Meeting of Council to Submit the Matter to a Vote of the People.

Council met in the mayor's office last night with Members Marshall, Stewart, Kent, Peake, Horwell and Ashbaugh present. Attorneys Brookes, Clark and Solicitor Grosshans were also on hand.

The first business before council was the Billingsley damage cases. Clark reviewed the case from the day the buggy went over the hill up to the present time. Brookes submitted the evidence, and as far as the attorneys were concerned they were through. Council started to talk about the matter when someone spoke of the East End road. This was all that was needed, and in a few minutes council had forgotten all about the Billingsley cases, and were talking East End road with a vengeance. The discussion developed the fact that the city had no right of way to East End whatever, and that one road is not on the line, as the surveyors run one-half of it out two rods further than it should have been to make the road straight. Marshall spoke of the road, and gave a lot of history, winding up his remarks by saying: "It was the only legal act council ever done in regard to that road." Peake jumped up and said: "I wasn't in council when they ever done any legal acts at all." Stewart finally succeeded in getting council back to the original subject, but no action was taken, as the members present wanted to wait until a full quorum was present.

Stewart then called council's attention to the fact that the meeting had been called for a double purpose, but stated as it was growing late he would only read a portion of a report from the city of Evansville, in regard to cities owning their own light plant, which would show it to be a decided advantage. Peake wanted to go home at once but Stewart asked him if he didn't want to hear this, in a sarcastic manner, and Peake remained.

The report showed that the city of Evansville was paying for 198 street lamps the sum of $31,350, or an average of $158.30 per light. It also showed that the average price per annum of a private concern was $114.59 per light, while the average price of a city operating its own plant was $57.88. The report goes farther, and has a large amount of figures to show the advantage to a city owning its own light plant. Stewart said that it was costing East Liverpool $6,300 a year to light the city, and the committee doing the figuring for council estimated that if the people decided to have a light plant of their own they would save a margin of $2,000 a year, beside having 1,000 incandescent lights. Horwell said at that rate the city would have a clear plant in 10 years, with money in their pocket. Stewart stated that Pittsburg and a number of other cities were going into the scheme, and Peake wanted to have the plant built on the hill, claiming that when there was a flood it covered the roof of the pump house, and would spoil the machinery. He also thought someone should see the light company to find out what they think about it, as he didn't think it was altogether right to go ahead on the scheme without notifying them. This brought forth much expression from the members. Stewart telling Peake that the water never came anywhere near covering the pump house. Kent wanted to know how much stock Peake owned in the old light plant, while Marshall desired to find out if he wanted the building located in the West End. Another member said it would be a shame to insult the light company, and perhaps it would be better to tell them their plans, and Peake had no more to say. Stewart was of the opinion that council might want to consult an electrical engineer to get figures for themselves, and said if they so desired, he had the address of a good man.

"As to who should run the plant and how it will be controlled will have to be determined by council. The present light company have a contract with us to give us 2000 candle power when they in reality give us only about 1200," said Stewart.

"I intend at the next meeting of council to introduce a motion that the question be submitted to a vote of the people." Council then adjourned after having spent almost three hours in talking over the matter.

Received the Money.
The following letter containing $5

was received by one of the ladies who had charge of the farewell entertainment given to Doctor Lee last night. The letter reads: "A contribution for the purse from two friends of Doctor Lee, who are not members of his church."

BEATEN AND ROBBED.

The Unfortunate Predicament of a Stranger in the City.

An unknown party called at one of the banks yesterday and desired to know if a certain prominent citizen was connected therewith. He was answered in the affirmative. He then asked if the bank paid interest on deposits. He was told that they did not, and finally, after numerous questions, deposited a certain amount, taking in exchange a certificate of deposit. He then left the bank and nothing more was thought of the matter until the door bell rang at the residence of the cashier yesterday evening. Going to the door he found that the caller was his client of the afternoon, and upon asking the object of his visit, the man stated that he had been assaulted at the wharf, knocked down, and everything of value taken from his pockets, and that he was in need of funds. He requested the loan of $5 until today, when he would pay the amount from the money deposited in the bank. The cashier refused to do this, and the man finally decided that $1 would tide him over until the morrow, but this amount the cashier also refused to advance, not knowing whether the man had been relieved of his certificate or whether he was resorting to a scheme.

NOT ONLY POTTERY

But Woolen Goods Were Purchased From Importers.

The Salem News, in commenting on the article which appeared in the NEWS REVIEW Monday, headed "A Burning Shame," and referring to the purchase of foreign ware by our government, says:

"What more could you expect at the hands of this Democratic administration? During Cleveland's first administration, blankets were purchased for the United States troops. Were they home-made blankets? Not on your life. The government took advantage of the fact that it could suspend the operations of the tariff law by remitting the duty when making purchases of foreign goods for itself, and accordingly the foreign manufacturers of army blankets supplied the United States soldiers. Away with such notions of patriotism."

A HANDSOME BADGE

Presented to a Liverpool Lady as a Token of Appreciation.

Miss Annie B. Davidson, operator at the telephone exchange, and a prominent member of the Daughters of America, has received a handsome gold badge, emblematic of the order from Pittsburg. A short time ago she wrote an article for the American, touching on patriotism, which was published in last week's issue. In appreciation of her literary abilities the management sent her a badge, accompanied by a letter of flattering commendation. Miss Davidson is highly pleased with the gift, which came in the nature of a surprise. She is requested to make another contribution, and has consented to do so.

THIS SPEAKS.

Advertisers Will Make Note of Its Voice and Profit Thereby.

A young lad of this city lost his week's wages the other day, and was very much worried and annoyed by the happening. Fortunately an honest person found the money and, in true wisdom and full knowledge of the city and its needs, advertised the fact in a paper of "general circulation in this corporation." Of course the advertisement was noted by many hundreds of people, and the loser was rendered happy by recovering the full sum. Moral for advertisers to make due note of—advertise in the NEWS REVIEW.

POWER SHUT OFF

In Order That Cars Might Not Be Disabled by Lightning.

While the electrical storm was in progress yesterday afternoon the power was shut off, and street cars were brought to a standstill. The reason of this was that it was feared the trolley wire might be struck by lightning and the cars disabled by having their armatures burnt out. The company did not desire that a repetition of the last severe electrical storm be experienced. Many of the trolleys were also removed from the wire above.

Captured a Horse.

Constable Bertele this morning captured a horse running loose in Bradshaw's addition. He started with it for a lively stable, but the owner appeared before he had gone very far, and the constable gave him his horse, but not until he had paid a fine for letting it run loose.

MUSIC, MIRTH, MELODY

Marked the Reception Tendered Doctor Lee.

A LARGE AUDIENCE PRESENT

Who Listened to One of the Finest Programs Ever Rendered in the City. The Pastor the Recipient of a Well Filled Purse.

Rev. John Lloyd Lee, Ph. D., left this afternoon for New York, where he will on Saturday take ship for Europe, in company with Rev. Frank De Wit Talmage, and with him went the hearty good wishes of his congregation.

The First Presbyterian church was last night a pleasant place to be. As early as 8 o'clock the doors of the lecture room were thrown open, and members of the congregation, as well as numbers of other congregations, began to arrive. They were cordially received by Mrs. Jessie Cotts, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. George Matheny. Seats were provided for all, while Doctor Lee passed along the aisles, with a glad word and a pleasant smile for all. For an hour the reception was continued, but no one had wearied of the pleasant occasion when Frank H. Croxall, master of ceremonies for the evening, announced that the main auditorium was open, and there the musical program would be carried out. In a very few minutes the large room was filled to overflowing. George Matheny and George Murphy played the role of flower boys to perfection, and the happy crowd had not ceased to enjoy their performance when Mr. Croxall announced the first number of the musical program.

It was an anthem by the choir, with E. K. Macrum at the organ, and seldom it is that better music is heard in the church. Miss Carrie Kuntz followed in a delightful piano solo, through which ran the familiar strains of "Home, Sweet Home." Then came George E. Davidson, and the audience laughed loudly while he sang of a deacon who had his legs amputated and was given a pair from the frame of a tramp. The song was amusing, and the singer was loudly applauded, but he would not repeat the performance, and an excellent piano solo by Mrs. A. W. Thomas followed. Mrs. J. C. Thompson sang, as she only can sing, "The Song That Reached My Heart," and the large audience fully appreciated the exquisite music as it sounded in beautiful strains through the church. Seldom has the singer sung so sweetly, and never was it more thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Nellie Adam and Miss Sarah James sang a pleasing duet, and Miss Blanch Bray, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Frederick, rendered a solo that was loudly applauded. Miss Ida Huston gave a difficult selection on the piano, and was followed by Ambrose Cartwright in a vocal solo that was enthusiastically applauded. Mrs. Sloan gave a sacred selection and Misses McLane and Laughlin gave a delightful vocal duet. The applause was deafening, but the ladies would not repeat the performance, and Misses Huston and Chapman delighted their hearers by an instrumental duet. Professor Harper concluded the musical program by a solo, and the chairman read a letter of regret from Reverend Whitehead, who was unable to be present.

Then came an interesting event. Reverend Sloane was given the platform. In his hand he carried an envelope, and in the envelope was money. It made up a reminder to Doctor Lee that his congregation desired him to enjoy the journey through Europe, and was given as a token of their esteem. Reverend Sloane spoke in a happy strain and passed the fat envelope to Doctor Lee. That gentleman received it in the spirit which sent it. He was deeply touched, and for a few minutes spoke feelingly of the gift. Then, in a pleasing manner, the doctor thanked the congregation, and outlined his trip. He will go to England and Scotland, and from there to France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, and possibly to Austria. Prayer was said by Reverend O'Meara, Doctor Lee pronounced the benediction, and the people crowded around him to say good bye. For half an hour this continued, and the meeting came to an end. It was a delightful affair, and was thoroughly enjoyed. Doctor Lee leaves the city with the good wishes of not only his congregation, but also of many friends on the outside. That he may enjoy his vacation is their earnest desire, and the wish of the NEWS REVIEW.

The floral display would have been much finer had it not been spoiled by the severe rain of the afternoon.

Another member said it would be a shame to insult the light company, and perhaps it would be better to tell them their plans, and Peak had no more to say. Stewart was of the opinion that council might want to consult an electrical engineer to get figures for themselves, and said if they so desired, he had the address of a good man.

"As to who should run the plant and how it will be controlled will have to be determined by council. The present light company have a contract with us to give us 2000 candle power when they in reality give us only about 1300," said Stewart. "I intend at the next meeting of council to introduce a motion that the question be submitted to a vote of the people." Council then adjourned after having spent almost three hours in talking over the matter.

POWER SHUT OFF

In Order That Cars Might Not Be Disabled by Lightning.

While the electrical storm was in progress yesterday afternoon the power was shut off, and street cars were brought to a standstill. The reason of this was that it was feared the trolley wire might be struck by lightning and the cars disabled by having their armatures burnt out. The company did not desire that a repetition of the last severe electrical storm be experienced. Many of the trolleys were also removed from the wire above.

Captured a Horse.

Constable Bertele this morning captured a horse running loose in Bradshaw's addition. He started with it for a lively stable, but the owner appeared before he had gone very far, and the constable gave him his horse, but not until he had paid a fine for letting it run loose.

Received the Money. The following letter containing $5

was received by one of the ladies who had charge of the farewell entertainment given to Doctor Lee last night. The letter reads: "A contribution for the purse from two friends of Doctor Lee, who are not members of his church."

BEATEN AND ROBBED.

The Unfortunate Predicament of a Stranger in the City.

An unknown party called at one of the banks yesterday and desired to know if a certain prominent citizen was connected therewith. He was answered in the affirmative. He then asked if the bank paid interest on deposits. He was told that they did not, and finally, after numerous questions, deposited a certain amount, taking in exchange a certificate of deposit. He then left the bank and nothing more was thought of the matter until the door bell rang at the residence of the cashier yesterday evening. Going to the door he found that the caller was his client of the afternoon, and upon asking the object of his visit, the man stated that he had been assailed at the wharf, knocked down, and everything of value taken from his pockets, and that he was in need of funds. He requested the loan of $5 until today, when he would pay the amount from the money deposited in the bank. The cashier refused to do this, and the man finally decided that $1 would tide him over until the morrow, but this amount the cashier also refused to advance, not knowing whether the man had been relieved of his certificate or whether he was resorting to a scheme.

NOT ONLY POTTERY

But Woolen Goods Were Purchased From Importers.

The Salem News, in commenting on the article which appeared in the News Review Monday, headed "A Burning Shame," and referring to the purchase of foreign ware by our government, says:

"What more could you expect at the hands of this Democratic administration? During Cleveland's first administration, blankets were purchased for the United States troops. Were they home-made blankets? Not on your life. The government took advantage of the fact that it could suspend the operations of the tariff law by remitting the duty when making purchases of foreign goods for itself, and accordingly the foreign manufacturers of army blankets supplied the United States soldiers. Away with such notions of patriotism!"

A HANDSOME BADGE

Presented to a Liverpool Lady as a Token of Appreciation.

Miss Annie B. Davidson, operator at the telephone exchange, and a prominent member of the Daughters of America, has received a handsome gold badge, emblematic of the order from Pittsburg. A short time ago she wrote an article for the American, touching on patriotism, which was published in last week's issue. In appreciation of her literary abilities the management sent her a badge, accompanied by a letter of flattering commendation. Miss Davidson is highly pleased with the gift, which came in the nature of a surprise. She is requested to make another contribution, and has consented to do so.

THIS SPEAKS.

Advertisers Will Make Note of Its Voice and Profit Thereby.

A young lad of this city lost his week's wages the other day, and was very much worried and annoyed by the happening. Fortunately an honest person found the money and, in true wisdom and full knowledge of the city and its needs, advertised the fact in a paper of "general circulation in this corporation." Of course the advertisement was noted by many hundreds of people, and the loser was rendered happy by recovering the full sum. Moral for advertisers to make due note of—advertise in the News Review.

MUSIC, MIRTH, MELODY

Marked the Reception Tendered Doctor Lee.

A LARGE AUDIENCE PRESENT

Who Listened to One of the Finest Programs Ever Rendered in the City. The Pastor the Recipient of a Well Filled Purse.

Rev. John Lloyd Lee, Ph. D., left this afternoon for New York, where he will on Saturday take ship for Europe, in company with Rev. Frank De Wit Talmage, and with him went the hearty good wishes of his congregation.

The First Presbyterian church was last night a pleasant place to be. As early as 8 o'clock the doors of the lecture room were thrown open, and members of the congregation, as well as numbers of other congregations, began to arrive. They were cordially received by Mrs. Jessie Cotts, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. George Matheny. Seats were provided for all, while Doctor Lee passed along the aisles, with a glad word and a pleasant smile for all. For an hour the reception was continued, but no one had wearied of the pleasant occasion when Frank H. Croxall, master of ceremonies for the evening, announced that the main auditorium was open, and there the musical program would be carried out. In a very few minutes the large room was filled to overflowing. George Matheny and George Murphy played the role of flower boys to perfection, and the happy crowd had not ceased to enjoy their performance when Mr. Croxall announced the first number of the musical program.

It was an anthem by the choir, with E. K. Macrum at the organ, and seldom is that better music is heard in the church. Miss Carrie Kountz followed in a delightful piano solo, through which ran the familiar strains of "Home, Sweet Home." Then came George E. Davidson, and the audience laughed loudly while he sang of a deacon who had his legs amputated and was given a pair from the frame of a tramp. The song was amusing, and the singer was loudly applauded, and an excellent piano solo by Mrs. A. W. Thomas followed. Mrs. J. C. Thompson sang, as she only can sing, "The Song That Reached My Heart," and the large audience fully appreciated the exquisite music as it sounded in beautiful strains through the church. Seldom has the singer sung so sweetly, and never was it more thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Nellie Adam and Miss Sarah James sang a pleasing duet, and Miss Blanch Bray, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Frederick, rendered a solo that was loudly applauded. Miss Ida Huston gave a difficult selection on the piano, and was followed by Ambrose Cartwright in a vocal solo that was enthusiastically applauded. Mrs. Sloan gave a sacred selection and Misses McLane and Laughlin gave a delightful vocal duet. The applause was deafening, but the ladies would not repeat the performance, and Misses Huston and Chapman delighted their hearers by an instrumental duet. Professor Harper concluded the musical program by a solo, and the chairman read a letter of regret from Reverend Whitehead, who was unable to be present.

Then came an interesting event. Reverend Sloane was given the platform. In his hand he carried an envelope, and in the envelope was money. It made up a reminder to Doctor Lee that his congregation desired him to enjoy the journey through Europe, and was given as a token of their esteem. Reverend Sloane spoke in a happy strain and passed the fat envelope to Doctor Lee. That gentleman received it in the spirit which sent it. He was deeply touched, and for a few minutes spoke feelingly of the gift. Then, in a pleasing manner, the doctor thanked the congregation, and outlined his trip. He will go to England and Scotland, and from there to France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, and possibly to Austria. Prayer was said by Reverend O'Meara, Doctor Lee pronounced the benediction, and the people crowded around him to say good bye. For half an hour this continued, and the meeting came to an end. It was a delightful affair, and was thoroughly enjoyed. Doctor Lee leaves the city with the good wishes of not only his congregation, but also of many friends on the outside. That he may enjoy his vacation is their earnest desire, and the wish of the News Review.

The floral display would have been much finer had it not been spoiled by the severe rain of the afternoon.

—F. S. Crowl, of Marshalltown, Iowa, was in the city yesterday on business.

Protection to home and home interests will take first place in the platform of the Republican party. Sound money will be a close second in importance.

FREE SILVER.

Here is Grover's latest prophecy: "The unlimited and independent coinage of silver will not do. Such a platform will result in lasting disaster to our party or organization."

REV. LEE.

Last night's reception demonstrates the fact that he is not only appreciated in his congregation, but that he has a host of friends in this community. The News Review wishes him a prosperous and profitable European trip.

REED.

Among the masses there is a strong desire to call the head of the Republican ticket "McKinley and Reed." What a brainy couple would then be at the head of the nation. Politicians of the party are aiming for Ohio and New York.

CUBA.

The statesmen at St. Louis show, by side remarks, and in attempted passage of resolutions, that they are strongly in favor of Cuba and "forinst" Spain. The trend of thought is that the vital interests of the United States may demand interposition in Cuban affairs.

GOOD FAITH.

The News Review staff has instructions to keep faith and stand true to every promise made, no matter if a good item is lost by so doing. This is right and will eventually win. Broken promises always result in evil to those who indulge therein. This is respectfully referred to those most interested.

DEMOCRACY.

The untirred failed to harmonize in the fullest extent at Lisbon yesterday.
The Lisbon and East Liverpool representatives of the newspapers evidently indulged in a Donnybrook fair demonstration, making the bone and sinew of the convention very weary and calling forth expressions of disapproval. The principal business of the assembly was condemnation of every feature which promises prosperity to the country. Of course they berated McKinley. The next President is an awful thorn in the side of Democracy.

GOOD AS GOLD.

To the average reader, this has the right ring; and this is the ring of the true metal—the ring which will control
at the Republican convention at St.
Louis. A circulating medium which is just as good as gold. In other words, a dollar which is based upon the value of

The Gold Men In Control.

OCALA, Fla., June 17.—The state Democratic convention is in session here. Senator Pasco was elected temporary chairman. There is a strong probability that the delegates to Chicago will go uninstructed. The gold standard men have a majority on the credentials committee.

TO DEFEAT MORTON.

Anti-Platt Men Making a Desperate Effort.

BESIEGED HANNA TO HELP THEM

Don't Even Want to Allow the Governor to Have Second Place on the Ticket.
Foraker Promises to Help the Morton
People.

St. Louis, June 17.—Despite the general feeling that the ticket will be Mc-Kinley and Morton, Governor Morton's name will not go on the ticket without the most vehement protest of the anti-Platt faction in New York state.
Led by Warner Miller, the leaders of the latter are bending their energies to prevent Morton's nomination for vice president. The breach in the New York delegation between the Platt and Miller factions was intensified, when the telegram from Morton to Platt was received, signifying his acceptance of the vice presidential standard if he failed in the presidential race.

"Levi P. Morton cannot go on the ticket with William McKinley," said Warner Miller, the leader of the anti-Platt faction. "We will invoke the aid of the McKinley managers to assist us, their friends in New York state, against this injecting of national politics in our

LEVI P. MORTON.

state fight" and his followers added their "yes" to the statement. They met and adopted resolutions to this effect, which expressed the above sentiment
and ended as follows:

"We ask all true friends of William McKinley in the national convention to join with us, his friends in the Empire state in opposing the nomination of Levi Parsons Morton for vice president, or any other candidate from the state of
New York."

Mr. Miller, Cornelius N. Bliss and S.
V. R. Cruger went at once to the Ohio headquarters to ask about the rumor that had spread that Ohio was favorable to Morton. Mr. Miller when he returned said:

"Ohio will not support Morton. Mr.
Hanna's only promise to New York was that if the delegation could unite on one man for vice president, he would throw his influence toward the selection. We are against Morton and Mr.
Hanna will not stand for any promise to Platt."

The question gradually drifted out of New York state politics to one of national importance. Leaders of delegations were visited and buttonholed, and tables of possible votes were made up.
Senator Quay and Lodge also were taking a hand in the matter, and Russell A. Alger's aid was procured by the Morton people. Perhaps the most curious feature was the announcement by Mr. Hackett of New York that Foraker of Ohio had told him that if
Mr. Hanna's loyalty toward the Warner Miller faction in New York kept him from an expression for Morton and bade him assist Miller, he (Foraker) could deliver 24 of the 46 votes of Ohio for Mr. Morton, besides many other Mc-Kinley states. An estimate of strength for Morton without McKinley's managers' assistance was given as follows:

New York, 56; Connecticut, 12; Delaware, 6; Florida, 8; Maryland, 16;
Massachusetts, 30; Michigan, 28; Minnesota, 18; Nebraska, 16; New Hampshire, 8; North Dakota, 6; Ohio, 24;
Pennsylvania, 64; Rhode Island, 8;
South Dakota, 8; Tennessee, 24; Texas,
15; Wisconsin, 24; Vermont, 8;
Mississippi, 18. Total 397.

For a choice it would be necessary to have 400 votes. When shown these figures Mr. Miller said they were fic-tious and added:

"Wait till we get through with those states."

It was learned at Mr. Hanna's rooms that he told the Miller adherents, when they asked his support of their fight against Morton, that he would give them an answer in the morning, as he would have to have time to consider the matter.

The most energetic assistance that the anti-Morton element got was from the New Jersey delegation, who had hoped to nominate their man, Garrett A. Hobart, for vice president.

In the meantime, the Miller men had visited the headquarters of the Maine delegation and tried to induce them to place Mr. Reed in the field for vice president. While an absolute refusal was not given, it was understood that even if nominated Mr. Reed would decline the nomination. The leaders of the delegation promised, however, to put themselves in instant communication with Mr. Reed and get a decisive answer. If Reed was to accept it would mean a serious defection of eastern states from the Morton column.

At Platt's room it was admitted that Mr. Morton's chances would be slim if Mr. Reed entered the race, but that seemed to be the only fear.

Mr. Depew telegraphed Morton regarding his nominating him for the presidency and Mr. Morton said he was not a candidate for vice president, but for president.

NOMINATE TOMORROW.

The McKinley Managers Have Announced
Their Program.

St. Louis, June 17.—General J. C.
Home, who was adjutant general under Governor McKinley and is marshal of the parade of McKinley clubs arranged for tonight, has called on Mr. Hanna and was assured that there would be no effort to conclude the convention tomorrow or tomorrow night, and there would be no interference with the parade.

Judge A. C. Thompson, the Ohio
member of the committee on credentials, said the Texas cases would be considered today, and that the committee could then report to the convention.

The McKinley managers announce that the nominations will be made tomorrow.

The statesmen at St. Louis show, by side remarks, and in attempted passage of resolutions, that they are strongly in favor of Cuba and "forinist" Spain. The trend of thought is that the vital interests of the United States may demand interposition in Cuban affairs.

GOOD FAITH.

The NEWS REVIEW staff has instructions to keep faith and stand true to every promise made, no matter if a good item is lost by so doing. This is right and will eventually win. Broken promises always result in evil to those who indulge therein. This is respectfully referred to those most interested.

DEMOCRACY.

The untimely failed to harmonize in the fullest extent at Lisbon yesterday. The Lisbon and East Liverpool representatives of the newspapers evidently indulged in a Donnybrook fair demonstration, making the bone and sinew of the convention very weary and calling forth expressions of disapproval. The principal business of the assembly was condemnation of every feature which promises prosperity to the country. Of course they berated McKinley. The next President is an awful thorn in the side of Democracy.

GOOD AS GOLD.

To the average reader, this has the right ring; and this is the ring of the true metal—the ring which will control at the Republican convention at St. Louis. A circulating medium which is just as good as gold. In other words, a dollar which is based upon the value of 100 cents. A dollar which will command respect the world over. A dollar which has the right kind of purchasing power. Not the dollar of the old confederate states, when it required 500 of them to purchase a pair of boots. Oh, no; but a Republican dollar, which is equivalent to the people's dollar, as the masses are right in heart and brain, and insist upon honest money, which will reflect credit upon this nation and make it respected the world over. The masses repudiate wildcat banks, unlimited coinage of silver and all other Democratic starvation and claptrap dodges.

CLEVELAND WRITES.

He Urges the Gold Men to Fight Hard at Chicago.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—In reply to a request from the New York Herald for a statement concerning the Democratic situation, President Cleveland sent the following to that newspaper:

"I have made no figures as to the probable action of delegates already chosen, or to be chosen to the Democratic national convention, but I refuse to believe that when the time arrives for deliberation action there will be engrafted upon our Democratic creed a demand for the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver. I cannot believe this because I know the Democratic party is neither unpatriotic nor foolish, and because it seems so clear to me that such a course will inflict a very great injury upon every interest of our country, which it has been the mission of Democracy to advance, and will result in lasting disaster to our party organization.

"There is little hope that as a means of success this free silver proposition, after its thorough discussion during a political campaign, will attract a majority of the voters of the country. It must be that many of the illusions which these now relying upon this alleged panacea for their ills will be dispelled before the time comes for them to cast their ballots which will express their sober second thought. The adoption by the Democracy of this proposition would, I believe, give to our opponents an advantage, both in the present and future, which they do not deserve.

"My attachment to true Democracy is so strong that I consider its success as identical with the promotion of the country's good. This ought sufficiently to account for my anxiety that no mistake be made at our party convention. In my opinion no effort should be spared to secure such action of the delegates as will avert party demoralization.

"It is a place for consultation and comparison of views; and those Democrats who believe in the cause of sound money should be heard and be constantly in evidence.

"A cause worth fighting for is worth fighting to the end. If sound money Democrats suppose there is danger of a mistake being made such danger should stimulate their activity in averting it instead of creating discouragement.

"I am very far from arrogating to myself a controlling influence upon the policy of my party; but as an unflinching Democrat who has been honored by his party and who desires hereafter no greater political privileges than to occupy the place of private in its ranks, I hope I may not be blamed for saying this much at this time, in the interest, as it seems to me, of the grand old organization, so rich in honorable traditions, so justly proud of its achievements, and always so undaunted and brave in its battle for the people's welfare."

TO DEFEAT MORTON.

Anti-Platt Men Making a Desperate Effort.

BESEECHED HANNA TO HELP THEM

Don't Even Want to Allow the Governor to Have Second Place on the Ticket. Foraker Promises to Help the Morton People.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—Despite the general feeling that the ticket will be McKinley and Morton, Governor Morton's name will not go on the ticket without the most vehement protest of the anti-Platt faction in New York state. Led by Warner Miller, the leaders of the latter are bending their energies to prevent Morton's nomination for vice president. The breach in the New York delegation between the Platt and Miller factions was intensified, when the telegram from Morton to Platt was received, signifying his acceptance of the vice presidential standard if he failed in the presidential race.

"Levi P. Morton cannot go on the ticket with William McKinley," said Warner Miller, the leader of the anti-Platt faction. "We will invoke the aid of the McKinley managers to assist us, their friends in New York state, against this injecting of national politics in our state fight" and his followers added their "yes" to the statement. They met and adopted resolutions to this effect, which expressed the above sentiment and ended as follows:

"We ask all true friends of William McKinley in the national convention to join with us, his friends in the Empire state in opposing the nomination of Levi Parsons Morton for vice president, or any other candidate from the state of New York."

Mr. Miller, Cornelius N. Bliss and S. V. R. Cruger went at once to the Ohio headquarters to ask about the rumor that had spread that Ohio was favorable to Morton. Mr. Miller when he returned said:

"Ohio will not support Morton. Mr. Hanna's only promise to New York was that if the delegation could unite on one man for vice president, he would throw his influence toward the selection. We are against Morton and Mr. Hanna will not stand for any promise to Platt."

The question gradually drifted out of New York state politics to one of national importance. Leaders of delegations were visited and buttonholed, and tables of possible votes were made up. Senator Quay and Lodge also were taking a hand in the matter, and Russell A. Alger's aid was procured by the Morton people. Perhaps the most curious feature was the announcement by Mr. Hackett of New York that Foraker of Ohio had told him that if Mr. Hanna's loyalty toward the Warner Miller faction in New York kept him from an expression for Morton and bade him assist Miller, he (Foraker) could deliver 24 of the 46 votes of Ohio for Mr. Morton, besides many other McKinley states. An estimate of strength for Morton without McKinley's managers' assistance was given as follows:

New York, 56; Connecticut 12; Delaware, 6; Florida, 8; Maryland, 16; Massachusetts, 30; Michigan, 38; Minnesota, 18; Nebraska, 16; New Hampshire, 8; North Dakota, 6; Ohio, 24; Pennsylvania, 64; Rhode Island, 8; South Dakota, 8; Tennessee, 24; Texas, 15; Wisconsin, 24; Vermont, 8; Mississippi, 18. Total 397.

For a choice it would be necessary to have 460 votes. When shown these figures Mr. Miller said they were fictitious and added:

"Wait till we get through with those states."

It was learned at Mr. Hanna's rooms that he told the Miller adherents, when they asked his support of their fight against Morton, that he would give them an answer in the morning, as he would have to have time to consider the matter.

The most energetic assistance that the anti-Morton element got was from the New Jersey delegation, who had hoped to nominate their man, Garrett A. Hobart, for vice president.

In the meantime, the Miller men had visited the headquarters of the Maine delegation and tried to induce them to place Mr. Reed in the field for vice president. While an absolute refusal was not given, it was understood that even if nominated Mr. Reed would decline the nomination. The leaders of the delegation promised, however, to put themselves in instant communication with Mr. Reed and get a decisive answer. If Reed was to accept it would mean a serious defection of eastern states from the Morton column.

At Platt's room it was admitted that Mr. Morton's chances would be slim if Mr. Reed entered the race, but that seemed to be the only fear.

Mr. Depew telegraphed Morton regarding his nominating him for the presidency and Mr. Morton said he was not a candidate for vice president, but for president.

NOMINATE TOMORROW.

The McKinley Managers Have Announced Their Program.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—General J. C. Howe, who was adjutant general under Governor McKinley and is marshal of the parade of McKinley clubs arranged for tonight, has called on Mr. Hanna and was assured that there would be no effort to conclude the convention tomorrow or tomorrow night, and there would be no interference with the parade.

Judge A. C. Thompson, the Ohio member of the committee on credentials, said the Texas cases would be considered today, and that the committee could then report to the convention. The McKinley managers announce that the nominations will be made tomorrow.

The Probable Outcome of Republican Convention.

MCKINLEY AS GOOD AS NAMED

New York's Governor Agrees to Take the Second Place.

STRAIGHT GOLD PLANK DECIDED ON

The Committee on Credentials Decides to Accept the Decisions of the National Committee on Contests—This May Facilitate Matters and Bring the Convention to an Adjournment Tomorrow. The Anti-Platt Element Making a Hard Fight to Prevent Morton's Nomination For Vice President—The Sub-Committee on Resolutions Formulates a Gold Plank—Teller Voted Down at Every Turn In the Committee Meeting—Convention Resumed Business This Morning—Routine of Yesterday's Session.

St. Louis, June 17.—The Republican national convention reassembled at 10 o'clock this morning. McKinley is sure of the first place. Nothing but death could now intervene.

The sentiment regarding the vice presidential nomination rapidly crystallized when it became definitely known that Governor Morton of New York had expressed a willingness to accept if the nomination came to him with any sort of unanimity. It seems almost certain now that the ticket will be McKinley and Morton as that the platform will be a conservative but unequivocal declaration in favor of the maintenance of the gold standard as long as the present conditions prevail.

The shock of battle which took place in the committee rooms will thunder and reverberate on the floor of the convention today. The action of the committee on credentials in deciding in favor of the findings of the national convention save in two instances it is believed will make the convention brief and many now believe that a final adjournment will be reached tomorrow. The indications are that the sensational climax will come when the report of the resolutions committee is presented. The adoption of the platform is assured by a large majority, but the radical silver men are expected to carry the fight to the last ditch.

CONVENED THIS MORNING.

The Convention Down to Work Again. Thurston In the Chair.

St. Louis, June 17.—The Republican national convention, which had adjourned from yesterday afternoon, was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by Temporary Chairman Fairbanks.

After some preliminaries, Senator J. M. Thurston of Nebraska was made permanent chairman and proceeded to the delivery of his speech.

After Temporary Chairman Fairbanks' speech yesterday, Mr. Carter of Montana, addressing the chair, said:

"By direction of the national committee I recommend to the convention the temporary secretary, stenographer, sergeant-at-arms, reading clerks, as follows:

For secretary—Charles W. Johnson of Minnesota.

Assistant secretaries—William E. Riley of Montana, Harry A. Schmidt of Michigan, A. M. Humphreys, at large; tally clerk, W. Monroe of Maryland.

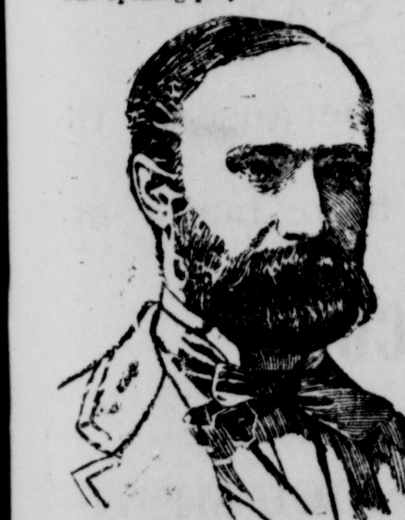

Official stenographer—James Francis Burke of Pennsylvania.

Sergeant-at-arms—T. E. Byrnes of Minnesota.

Assistant sergeants-at-arms—Hinkley of Wisconsin, Johnson of Maryland, Rexford of Washington and Stone of Illinois.

For reading clerks—Stone of Michigan, Wilson of Missouri, Molloy of Ohio, Hatch of Indiana and Bean of New Jersey. The recommendation of the national committee was concurred in, and the additional officers were declared elected.

The opening prayer was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Sale, rabbi of Gates of Truth congregation.

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN FAIRBANKS.

Mr. William Lamb of Virginia offered the following:

"Resolved, That until the permanent organization is effected this convention will be governed by the rules of the last Republican national convention."

The motion was unanimously carried.

Mr. Lamb of Virginia also offered the following:

"Resolved, That the roll of states and territories be now called and that the chairman of each delegation announce the names of the persons selected to serve on the several committees as follows:

tions, and that all resolutions in relation to the platform of the Republican party be referred to such committee without debate, and I move its adoption."

The resolution was adopted. The clerk proceeded with the call of the roll. While it was in progress the chair recognized William Wagner of Missouri, who addressed the chair as follows:

My observation has heretofore been, that the committee on permanent organization and rules and order of business is one committee. Does the resolution adopted substitute two committees?

The chairman replied: "They are two committees. They are separate."

The committees were then announced. Mr. Clayton of Arkansas then said: "I have a resolution to present to be referred to the committee on rules and order of business."

The chairman said: "The resolution cannot be read if there is objection; it can only be read by unanimous consent. Is there objection?"

DELEGATES DISCUSSING THE FINANCIAL QUESTION.

Cries of "object."

General Grosvenor of Ohio moved that the convention do now adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mr. Clayton of Arkansas, addressing the chair, said:

"I think that my resolutions referring to the platform is important and ask that it be read."

The chairman—Under the rules of the last convention the resolution will be referred without reading to the committee on resolutions.

Ex-Governor Fifer of Illinois was recognized and said:

"Mr. Chairman, the colored people of Illinois have passed resolutions affecting the rights of their race, and they have asked me to bring these resolutions to the attention of the convention. I will send them to the chair and ask that they be referred to the committee on resolutions for action."

The chairman—If there is no objection it will be so ordered.

Mr. Grosvenor—I now move that the convention adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The motion was put to a vote and carried, and at 1:55 p. m. the chairman announced the convention adjourned.

THURSTON IS CHAIRMAN.

The Unanimous Choice of the Committee on Permanent Organization.

St. Louis, June 17.—The committee on permanent organization met at the Southern hotel and General Grosvenor of Ohio was made chairman without a dissenting vote.

Delegate Trummel of Nebraska moved that Senator John M. Thurston be selected for permanent chairman. Without a single negative the motion carried.

It was then ordered that the temporary secretary and his entire staff be made permanent.

The Ohio member of the committee is C. H. Grosvenor; Pennsylvania, Charles H. Mullen; West Virginia, Henry Schmulbach; Maryland, W. J. Smale.

COMMITTEE ON RULES.

It Decides on Order of Business—Bingham Is Chairman.

St. Louis, June 17.—The committee on rules and order of business met pursuant to its adjournment after the meeting at the close of the convention.

Congressman Bingham of Philadelphia, was elected chairman. The committee decided to allow six votes to each of the territories and two to the District of Columbia, as arranged by the national committee in the call for the convention.

It was also decided that the rules of the house of representatives of the Fifty-fourth congress shall be the governing rules of the convention. According to the rules as adopted the convention will proceed in the following order of business:

First, report of the committee on credentials; second, report of the committee on permanent organization; third, report of the committee on resolutions; fourth, naming members of the national committee; fifth, presentation of candidates for president; sixth, balloting; seventh, presentation of candidates for vice president; eighth, balloting.

The Ohio member of the committee is George W. Wilson; Pennsylvania, H. H. Bingham; West Virginia, J. L. Hunt; Maryland, W. D. Straight.

GOLD PLANK FRAMED.

The Text as Reported to the Full Committee.

OPPOSED TO FREE SILVER.

Except by International Agreement, Which the Party Is Pledged to Try to Promote—Allegiance to Protection Declared—Independence of Cuba Favored.

St. Louis, June 17.—The following is the financial plank adopted by the sub-committee of the committee on resolutions:

The Republican party is unreservedly for sound money. It caused the enactment of the law providing for the resumption of specie payments in 1879; since then every dollar has been as good as gold.

We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country. We are, therefore, opposed to the free coinage of silver, except by international agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote, and until such agreement can be obtained the existing gold standard must be preserved. All our silver and paper currency now in circulation must be maintained at parity with gold, and we favor all measures designed to maintain inviolably the obligations of the United States, and all our money, whether coin or paper, at the present standard, the standard of the most enlightened nations of the earth.

Senator Teller offered a free silver resolution as a substitute, which was voted down.

Senator Teller of Colorado offered four propositions in the sub-committee, first for free and unlimited coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, then for the free coinage of the American product.

The third proposition of Mr. Teller was a preamble reciting that protection of silver was adopted, and the fourth was a proposition which, Mr. Fowler of Wyoming requested, should be submitted for the coinage of the American product and for a tariff on all foreign silver imported into this country. All of these propositions were voted down by a vote of 8 to 1.

Mr. Teller will submit a minority report on the money plank, but not upon any other feature of the platform, and will make a hard fight.

The preamble of the platform refers to the four years of Democratic rule compared to the 30 years of Republican rule as a good ground to appeal to the American people. The four years of unrestricted rule of the Democratic party is denounced as calamitous and a record of incapacity. An adverse balance of trade, the deficit in the treasury and piling up the public debt and the menace to the redemption fund is denounced. The effect of the Democratic policy has been to blight industry and has caused prolonged depression with disaster at home and dishonor abroad.

Allegiance to protection is declared: "We are not pledged to any particular schedule," but the question of rates should be governed by conditions.

The restoration of discriminating duties for the upbuilding of the merchant marine is favored.

A plank favoring liberal reciprocity is incorporated and the repeal of the reciprocity agreements is condemned.

The plank on foreign affairs favors the independence of Cuba and the control of Hawaii by the United States and endorses the Monroe doctrine.

There are planks favoring the extension of civil service reform; a declaration against the use of money for sectarian purposes; in favor of labor arbitration; for liberal pensions and the building of the Nicaraguan canal by the United States government.

QUAY'S PROBABLE ACTION.

May Shift His Delegation to McKinley on the First Ballot.

St. Louis, June 17.—It is reported upon what appears to be good authority that Senator Quay has at last definitely decided upon his course of action in the convention. According to this report he will allow himself to be placed in nomination, but that after this vote shall have been cast he will, as chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation, rise and change the vote cast for himself for McKinley.

McKinley's friends claim, however, that their candidate will have received sufficient votes to insure his nomination before the Pennsylvania delegation is reached in the roll call.

Washington, June 17.—The Democratic state convention adopted free silver resolutions.

Reed Takes It Easy.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Speaker Reed spent the day quietly at his headquarters at the Shoreham. A private view into his office adjoining, and puts him in direct connection with his friends at St. Louis. The speaker preserves his usual nonchalance and was mainly interested in one of Robert Louis Stevenson's romances.

Senator Allison Unconcerned.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A large iron stack is being erected at Patterson's foundry.

Harvey McHenry is suffering severely from a felon on his foot.

The debris of the fire in the Mackall building is being carted away.

The Ben Hur will be the only packet up today. The river is falling.

The Cleveland and Pittsburg tracks at the foot of Second street are being repaired.

The bone casters at Knowles china works have all been laid off work temporarily.

Martin Brozka has purchased a fine trotting horse from Frank Billingsley, of near town.

The bridge workmen were forced to cease work yesterday afternoon, owing to the rain.

A party of young people will drive out to Calcutta tomorrow night to attend a festival.

The Lotus club picnic at Columbian park yesterday was attended by a large crowd, and an enjoyable time was had by all.

Both departments of the D. E. McNichol pottery partially resumed work this morning after a shut down extending over a month.

The pavements being laid on Calcutta road will probably be completed in about two weeks. About half the work has been finished already.

A number of people went to Wells-ville last night to witness McCormick Bros.' circus. They report the show as far above expectations.

The railroaders will hold their annual picnic July 11, at Brady's Lake. The committee in charge of arrangements secured the grounds yesterday.

Robert Burford, of the Burford Pottery company, will leave for England Saturday, and will be absent several weeks on a business and pleasure trip.

County Surveyor I. B. Farmer is still at work running lines along the street car track. He says that it will probably take until next week to finish the job.

The noon train was delayed 50 minutes today by an accident that occurred on the line, disabling the engine. At Wells-ville a new locomotive was substituted.

A washout at Neil station, above Smith's Ferry, delayed the westbound afternoon train for two hours. The wreck crew were called out and the track cleared.

The board of directors of the Young Men's Christian association failed to meet last night, as a quorum was not present. Another meeting has been called for tomorrow night.

"Wholesale" Ward returned to Beaver this morning with his religious caisson well filled with ammunition, which will be poured into everybody and everything that don't suit his fanatical taste.

The attachment case of Joseph Turnbull against A. R. Meador will be heard in Squire Manley's court June 20. The cause of action is based upon money and merchandise loaned to defendant, which plaintiff wishes to recover.

"Dummy" Miller, the acrobat who made such a hit with Billy Van's minstrels in this city last season, is traveling with McCormick Bros.' circus, which appeared in Wells-ville last night. He called on friends in the city in the afternoon.

Eight members of the Sons of Veterans went to Lisbon last night to assist in the master of a large number of recruits into the camp at that place. They returned this morning, and report having had an excellent time, being royally entertained by their Lisbon brethren.

While the council meeting was in progress last night an old man, considerably the worse for wear and having the fingers cut off of both hands, appeared at the mayor's office, and wanted to secure lodging for the night. The meeting was stopped, and Mayor Gilbert informed him that the city was not running a boarding house.

The new art pottery, to be started in Baltimore by local potters, will not be placed in operation for some time yet. A plant has been secured and another kiln is to be built. When placed in readiness to be operated, a number of skilled workmen of this city, who have been offered positions there, will leave and commence work at once.

When the lightning struck Knowles' new end yesterday afternoon, a number of employees were badly shocked. Frank D. White, a kilnhand, was knocked down by the bolt and severely stunned. For almost half an hour one side of his face was numb. Several panes of glass in the windows of the Buckeye pottery were also shattered when the most vivid flash of lightning came.

Humane Officer Lloyd exercised with good effect this morning. The wife of a farmer, with a babe in her arms, was engaged in a hopeless task in the lower part of the city trying to persuade her recreant spouse, who was intoxicated, to return with her to their home across the river. The husband refused to listen to the entreaties of his wife, mingled with tears, and started to leave her. He was halted, however, by the humane officer and soon brought into a full realization of his domestic duties, and in strong terms compelled under pain of arrest to return with his wife.

MORTON -- GOLD.

The Probable Outcome of Republican Convention.

MCKINLEY AS GOOD AS NAMED

New York's Governor Agrees to Take the Second Place.

STRAIGHT GOLD PLANK DECIDED ON

The Committee on Credentials Decides to Accept the Decisions of the National Committee on Contests—This May Facilitate Matters and Bring the Convention to an Adjournment Tomorrow. The Anti-Platt Element Making a Hard Fight to Prevent Morton's Nomination For Vice President—The Sub-Committee on Resolutions Formulates a Gold Plank—Teller Voted Down at Every Turn in the Committee Meeting—Convention Resumed Business This Morning—Routine of Yesterday's Session.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—The Republican national convention reassembled at 10 o'clock this morning. McKinley is sure of the first place. Nothing but death could now intervene.

The sentiment regarding the vice presidential nomination rapidly crystallized when it became definitely known that Governor Morton of New York had expressed a willingness to accept if the nomination came to him with any sort of unanimity. It seems almost certain now that the ticket will be McKinley and Morton as that the platform will be a conservative but unequivocal declaration in favor of the maintenance of the gold standard as long as the present conditions prevail.

The shock of battle which took place in the committee rooms will thunder and reverberate on the floor of the convention today. The action of the committee on credentials in deciding in favor of the findings of the national convention save in two instances it is believed will make the convention brief and many now believe that a final adjournment will be reached tomorrow. The indications are that the sensational climax will come when the report of the resolutions committee is presented. The adoption of the platform is assured by a large majority, but the radical silver men are expected to carry the fight to the last ditch.

CONVENED THIS MORNING.

The Convention Down to Work Again. Thurston in the Chair.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—The Republican national convention, which had adjourned from yesterday afternoon, was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by Temporary Chairman Fairbanks.

After some preliminaries, Senator J. M. Thurston of Nebraska was made permanent chairman and proceeded to the delivery of his speech.

After Temporary Chairman Fairbanks' speech yesterday, Mr. Carter of Montana, addressing the chair, said: "By direction of the national committee I recommend to the convention the temporary secretary, stenographer, sergeant-at-arms, reading clerks, as follows:

For secretary—Charles W. Johnson of Minnesota.

Assistant secretaries—William E. Riley of Montana, Harry A. Schmidt of Michigan, A. M. Humphreys, at large; tally clerk, W. Monroe of Maryland.

Official stenographer—James Francis Burke of Pennsylvania.

Sergeant-at-arms—T. E. Byrnes of Minnesota.

Assistant sergeants-at-arms—Hinkley of Wisconsin, Johnson of Maryland, Rexford of Washington and Stone of Illinois.

For reading clerks—Stone of Michigan, Wilson of Missouri, Molloy of Ohio, Hatch of Indiana and Bean of New Jersey. The recommendation of the national committee was concurred in, and the additional officers were declared elected.

The opening prayer was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Sale, rabbi of Gates of Truth congregation.

Mr. William Lamb of Virginia offered the following:

"Resolved, That until the permanent organization is effected this convention will be governed by the rules of the last Republican national convention."

The motion was unanimously carried.

Mr. Lamb of Virginia also offered the following:

"Resolved, That the roll of states and territories be now called and that the chairman of each delegation announce the names of the persons selected to serve on the several committees as follows:

"Permanent organization, rules and order of business, credentials, resolutions, and that all resolutions in relation to the platform of the Republican party be referred to such committee without debate, and I move its adoption."

The resolution was adopted. The clerk proceeded with the call of the roll. While it was in progress the chair recognized William Wagner of Missouri, who addressed the chair as follows:

My observation has heretofore been, that the committee on permanent organization and rules and order of business is one committee. Does the resolution adopted substitute two committees?

The chairman replied:

"They are two committees. They are separate."

The committees were then announced.

Mr. Clayton of Arkansas then said:

"I have a resolution to present to be referred to the committee on rules and order of business."

The chairman said:

"The resolution cannot be read if

DELEGATES DISCUSSING THE FINANCIAL QUESTION.

there is objection; it can only be read by unanimous consent. Is there objection?"

Cries of "object."

General Grosvenor of Ohio moved that the convention do now adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mr. Clayton of Arkansas, addressing the chair, said:

"I think that my resolutions referring to the platform is important and ask that it be read."

The chairman—Under the rules of the last convention the resolution will be referred without reading to the committee on resolutions.

Ex-Governor Fifer of Illinois was recognized and said:

"Mr. Chairman, the colored people of Illinois have passed resolutions affecting the rights of their race, and they have asked me to bring these resolutions to the attention of the convention. I will send them to the chair and ask that they be referred to the committee on resolutions for action."

The chairman—If there is no objection it will be so ordered.

Mr. Grosvenor—I now move that the convention adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The motion was put to a vote and carried, and at 1:55 p. m. the chairman announced the convention adjourned.

THURSTON IS CHAIRMAN.

The Unanimous Choice of the Committee on Permanent Organization.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—The committee on permanent organization met at the Southern hotel and General Grosvenor

SENATOR THURSTON.

of Ohio was made chairman without a dissenting vote.

Delegate Trummel of Nebraska moved that Senator John M. Thurston be selected for permanent chairman. With-out a single negative the motion carried.

It was then ordered that the temporary secretary and his entire staff be made permanent.

The Ohio member of the committee is C. H. Grosvenor; Pennsylvania, Charles H. Mullen; West Virginia, Henry Schumacher; Maryland, J. L. Smale.

COMMITTEE ON RULES.

It Decides on Order of Business—Bingham Is Chairman.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—The committee on rules and order of business met pursuant to its adjournment after the meeting at the close of the convention. Congressman Bingham of Philadelphia, was elected chairman. The committee decided to allow six votes to each of the territories and two to the District of Columbia, as arranged by the national committee in the call for the convention.

It was also decided that the rules of the house of representatives of the Fifty-fourth congress shall be the governing rules of the convention. According to the rules as adopted the convention will proceed in the following order of business:

First, report of the committee on credentials; second, report of the committee on permanent organization; third, report of the committee on resolutions; fourth, naming members of the national committee; fifth, presentation of candidates for president; sixth, balloting; seventh, presentation of candidates for vice president; eighth, balloting.

The Ohio member of the committee is George W. Wilson; Pennsylvania, H. Bingham; West Virginia, J. L. Hunt; Maryland, W. D. Straight.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The treasury has lost $19,800 in gold coin and $21,800 in bars, which leaves the amount of the reserve $163,748,177.

GOLD PLANK FRAMED.

The Text as Reported to the Full Committee.

OPPOSED TO FREE SILVER.

Except by International Agreement, Which the Party Is Pledged to Try to Promote—Allegiance to Protection Declared—Independence of Cuba Favored.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—The following is the financial plank adopted by the sub-committee of the committee on resolutions:

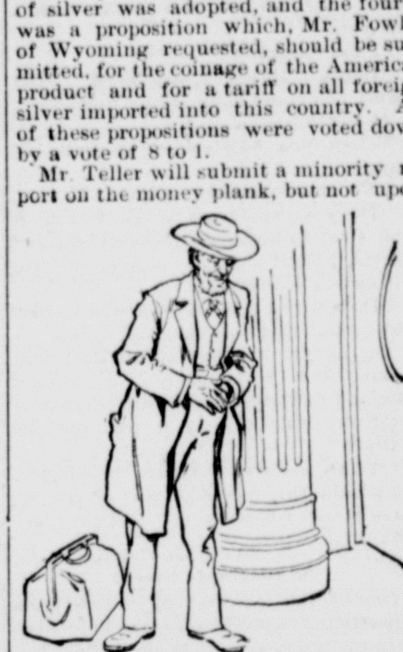

The Republican party is unreservedly for sound money. It caused the enactment of the law providing for the resumption of specie payments in 1876, since then every dollar has been as good as gold. We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country. We are, therefore, opposed to the free coinage of silver, except by international agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote, and until such agreement can be obtained the existing gold standard must be preserved. All our silver and paper currency now in circulation must be maintained at parity with gold, and we favor all measures designed to maintain inviolably the obligations of the United States, and all our money, whether coin or paper, at the present standard, the standard of the most enlightened nations of the earth.

Senator Teller offered a free silver resolution as a substitute, which was voted down.

Senator Teller of Colorado offered four propositions in the sub-committee, first for free and unlimited coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, then for the free coinage of the American product.

The third proposition of Mr. Teller was a preamble reciting that protection was impracticable unless free coinage of silver was adopted, and the fourth was a proposition which, Mr. Fowler of Wyoming requested, should be submitted, for the coinage of the American product and for a tariff on all foreign silver imported into this country. All of these propositions were voted down by a vote of 8 to 1.

Mr. Teller will submit a minority report on the money plank, but not upon

any other feature of the platform, and will make a hard fight.

The preamble of the platform refers to the four years of Democratic rule compared to the 30 years of Republican rule as a good ground to appeal to the American people. The four years of unrestricted rule of the Democratic party is denounced as calamitous and a record of incapacity. An adverse balance of trade, the deficit in the treasury and piling up the public debt and the menace to the redemption fund is denounced. The effect of the Democratic policy has been to blight industry and has caused prolonged depression with disaster at home and dishonor abroad.

Allegiance to protection is declared: "We are not pledged to any particular schedule," but the question of rates should be governed by conditions.

The restoration of discriminating duties for the rebuilding of the merchant marine is favored.

A plank favoring liberal reciprocity is incorporated and the repeal of the reciprocity agreements is condemned.

The plank on foreign affairs favors the independence of Cuba and the control of Hawaii by the United States and endorses the Monroe doctrine.

There are planks favoring the extension of civil service reform; a declaration against the use of money for sectarian purposes; in favor of labor arbitration; for liberal pensions and the building of the Nicaraguan canal by the United States government.

QUAY'S PROBABLE ACTION.

May Shift His Delegation to McKinley on the First Ballot.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—It is reported upon what appears to be good authority that Senator Quay has at last definitely decided upon his course of action in the convention. According to this report he will allow himself to be placed in nomination, but that after this vote shall have been cast he will, as chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation, rise and change the vote cast for himself for McKinley.

McKinley's friends claim, however, that their candidate will have received sufficient votes to insure his nomination before the Pennsylvania delegation is reached in the roll call.

Reed Takes It Easy.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Speaker Reed spent the day quietly at his headquarters at the Shoreham. A private wire runs into his office adjoining, and puts him in direct connection with his friends at St. Louis. The speaker preserves his usual nonchalance and was mainly interested in one of Robert Louis Stevenson's romances.

Senator Allison Unconcerned.

DURAPPE, June 17.—Senator Allison is today apparently one of the most unconcerned men in town as to events in St. Louis. He spent most of the day in his library and was out on the street among his business acquaintances. He scanned the news of the convention with undisguised interest, but made no comment.

Declared For Free Silver.

JUDGE ROBINSON WILL PRESIDE

Nineteen Couple Are Weary of Married Life and Ask Separation at the Hands of the Court—A Budget of Interest From Lisbon.

Lisbon, June 17.—[Special.]—The jury that retired on Monday afternoon, for the purpose of finding a verdict in the case of Dannemiller & Sons versus Florence M. Morgan, of Salem, was last evening called in by the court. A disagreement was entered and the jury was discharged.

The case brought by Duncan M. Dorsey against Mrs. O. J. Dorsey, the wife of his brother, of East Palestine, was tried to court yesterday afternoon, but no decision will be given for several days. A promissory note for $100 founded the action. Mrs. Dorsey gave a note five years ago, in order to keep her husband from state prison. In 1891 O. J. Dorsey was agent for the Domestic Sewing Machine company, and was arrested on a charge of embezzlement by his employers. The amount was paid by Duncan Dorsey, to secure his freedom, and the wife gave her note for the amount.

The case brought by F. H. Maneval, of East Palestine, against Samuel J. Kopf, to recover $5 on a delivery wagon, has been reported settled.

James C. Brewster's action to recover $500 insurance from the Columbiana Mutual company for damages to his property from fire was dismissed from the files.

The court made the following assignment last evening for next week's work, and that of a part of the week beginning July 6, the intervening week commencing June 29. Judge Robinson, of Ravenna, will occupy the bench and dispose of an assignment of cases which will be prepared today.

Monday—Luella McIntosh versus Thomas G. Stewart, Robert Hall versus T. R. Bradshaw, Robert Hill & Co. versus M. O. Lodge.

Tuesday—Edward Schneider versus Burford Bros., Cambridge Chair company versus E. A. Albright, Alex Stewart versus Sarah Campbell, Alex Stewart versus John Smull, William J. Rainey versus Abram Hartley, James Montgomery versus Robert McGonigle.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY

The Thieves, When Discovered, Fired Three Shots.

AL BOYCE NARROWLY ESCAPES

A Lower Panel Cut Out of the Back Door of Mackintosh's Grocery Store—The Thieves Make Their Escape, and the Authorities Have No Clue.

An attempt was made by three men to burglarize the Mackintosh grocery store, Sixth street, at 2 o'clock this morning.

The men were at work on the back door of the store, chiseling out a panel, when Mrs. Boyce, who resides next door to the place, was disturbed by the noise, and suspecting that something was wrong, awakened her husband, who went to the window at once and discovered the men at work. Having no firearms he spoke to the men and asked them what they were doing. They gave him no answer, but one arose to his feet and drawing a revolver fired three shots point blank at Mr. Boyce, who had his head out of a window not more than 30 feet distant. The shots missed him and the men hurriedly gathered up their tools and ran out by way of the back gate into the alley.

Homer Jackson was going down Sixth street on his way home and had reached the corner of Jackson when he heard the shots fired. Supposing it was somebody who had too much liquor aboard, he paid little attention to the matter, but when he reached Franklin street two of the men were coming up the pavement on a run, while the other had turned down and was making toward the Horn switch. Jackson then knew that something was wrong but didn't stop to investigate, taking to his heels and clearly outdistancing the robbers. Jackson was seen this morning and said he wouldn't be able to describe the two men, but that they were desperate characters and it seemed to him as though they came across lots to Franklin street.

An examination of the door this morning showed they had not been at work very long before being discovered, as only a portion of one of the lower panels had been removed. The authorities were notified, but as yet have no clue. The men were evidently experienced in the business, as when Boyce discovered them, they were in no hurry to get away, but took their own time in making their escape.

A BOARD OF DIRECTORS

For the New Library Elected
Last Night.

SUBSCRIPTIONS STILL COMING IN

The Meeting Was an Enthusiastic One and the Library Will Soon Be in the Hands of the Directors, as They Will Organize Friday Evening.

The meeting of the subscribers to the library fund took place in the W. L. Thompson building last night, a fair sized crowd being present.

The meeting was opened by Temporary Chairman Mumford, who, in a neat speech, gave a brief review of the history of the movement, telling how it first started in Trades council, the line of work carried on by the committee in soliciting funds and the success they had met with in their efforts. He closed his speech by thanking all those who had in any manner assisted in making the movement a success, either by money or labor. The object of the meeting was then stated by him, and the following directors were elected: Jason H. Brooks, Henry E. Porter, Ed. Crosser, F. W. Fowler, M. E. Golding, James N. Hanley, James Miles, Thomas Mumford, Charles Danberg, J. J. Weisend and John Brannon. After the election was over the meeting adjourned and the members of the board of directors that were present held an informal meeting, but made no effort to organize, as it was desirous that the members who were unavoidably absent last night would be present before the board effected a permanent organization. The library committee submitted a list of catalogues received from the leading publishing houses in the United States, for the inspection of the board, who will make the selection of the books. The committee also gave a few recommendations to the board in regard to the maintenance and adoption of rules governing the library.

The library committee is a thing of the past, as the results of their labors were turned over to the board last night. They certainly deserve credit for the manner in which they have labored for the success of the plan, and will continue to receive subscriptions, although they do not now hold office. The directors will meet Friday evening in the library room, and effect a permanent organization.

MONEY IN HOLES.

Local Capital is Going After Oil—Excitement in Knoxville.

People residing between Somerset and Knoxville, a section in Jefferson county eight miles from this city, are wild with excitement because the oil fever is upon them.

The third well has already been drilled in the field, and the people are happy. Not a duster has come to light, every well flowing freely. The last hole was cased yesterday, and the flow shows 40 barrels. It is on the Alexander farm, adjoining the McGhie place, and is the best that has yet come in. The hole is 1,300 feet deep, and the Standard Oil company have a force at work bringing a pipe line from the Island creek field. The people have been watching the development with great care, and the excitement has extended to this city. A company is now in process of formation, and in a short time its agents will be hard at work leasing land and preparing for drilling. It has not yet been decided how many holes will be drilled, but the company will have enough money at hand to make extensive operations possible, provided the limits of the field have not yet been reached. In the section where oil is found the people believe they have a good thing, and staid old farmers, who were never known to be excited, are now brought to a high pitch by the prospect of sudden wealth.

BOOMING GREAT AMERICA.

A Swiss Journal Celebrates the Nation's Variegated Immensity.

One of the most amusing descriptions of America is that which recently appeared in The Nachrichten, Basle, Switzerland. It runs as follows:

"America is a country in comparison to which Europe is a small peninsula. The United States is an empire by whose side the powers of Europe appear as petty states. America is the land of unmeasured capacity and dimensions, the land of dollars and electricity, the land where the plains are wider, the rivers greater, the waterfalls higher, the bridges longer, the express trains faster, the catastrophes more horrible, than in all Europe; the country where the buildings are taller, the railroads more numerous, the poor poorer, the millionaires richer, the thieves bolder, the murderers less bothered and educated people more rare than anywhere else. It is the land in which the sun is more false, the corsets tighter, disease more dangerous, corruption more common, insanity more systematic, the summer hotter, the winter more chilly, fire warmer and ice colder, time more costly, than in sleepy old Europe. The land where old men are younger and youths older, the niggers blacker and the whites yellower than elsewhere, the land of immeasurable natural resources and of the most prodigious avarice. In short, America is the land of the greatest contrasts, the craziest presumption, the most reckless hunt after the dollar. It is the land of everything colossal and unapproachable—the last of course from the American point of view."

Necessarily Slow.

An 8-year-old San Rafael boy was being lectured on obedience.

"I told you that you could play with the Wilson boys till 5 o'clock," said his mother. "Here it is 7 and you are just home. Why didn't you come when I told you?"

"I did, mamma."

"Don't tell me a falsehood. Why didn't you come home at 5 o'clock?"

"I started home at 5."

"Then you stopped to play on the way?"

"No, mamma; sure, I didn't."

"Do you expect me to believe that it took you two hours to walk half a mile? I think I shall have to punish you for telling me falsehoods."

"Honestly, I started home at 5 o'clock and came straight home."

The mother led the boy into the kitchen and took down a whip. He turned pale and tears welled up into his eyes.

"Now, sir, will you tell me the truth?"

"Ye-es, mamma; Charlie Wilson gave me a mud turtle—and I was afraid—to carry it—so I led it home."—San Francisco Post.

Do Diamonds Breed?

One of the queerest of the old time superstitions was the one that is responsible for the notion that pearls and diamonds "breed" like animals do. Rues says: "As for what I know concerning the reputed story that precious stones are divided into sexes, male and female, just as are plants and animals, and that they breed like the latter do, I relate the following, which came under my own knowledge: A certain princess of Luxembourg had two diamonds, the colors of which betokened that they were male and female. The princess laughed at the notion until one day she was startled by finding a tiny speck of a diamond in her basket. She put the two large diamonds and the little one away together, and they had a whole family in a reasonable course of time." A similar tale is also told by Boethius.—St. Louis Republic.

EVERYTHING IS READY

For the Grand Demonstration
When the News Comes.

MUSIC, ORATORY AND FIREWORKS

Will be the Order of the Day—Bands Engaged to March in Procession—Local Speakers Will Make Addresses—The Event Will be a Memorable One.

From present indications, and judging from the action taken by the committee of the McKinley club, in conjunction with the Republican central committee, it is apparent that the demonstration to be held in honor of the selection of Ohio's favorite son as the standard bearer of the party this year will be a rousing one and full of old-time enthusiasm. The celebration will be practically the same as the program outlined in last Friday's issue of this paper.

The following members of the central committee will act with the committee of the club in taking charge of the demonstration: J. C. Kerr, M. Logan, George Grosshans, William Miller and James N. Hanley. Club-committee: J. N. Simms, T. O. Timmons, W. J. Martin, William Beardmore, Warren McCain, John G. Powell, H. L. Simms, J. M. McGonigal and J. W. Finley. These committees have been instructed to make all necessary arrangements and prepare the program for the occasion.

A procession will be formed in the Diamond and the line of march will extend over the principal streets of the city. Two bands have been engaged to take part in the parade, and amid the glare of fireworks that will be profusely discharged along the route of march, excellent music will be discoursed. It was the intention at first to secure outside speakers to deliver addresses, but it is probable that the oratory will be furnished by local talent.

The demonstration will undoubtedly be the greatest ever held in this vicinity, and all those who are interested in the country's prosperity and Major McKinley's success should turn out, and by their efforts, assist in making the occasion one which can be referred to in the future with pride.

Special trains will be run into Canton Saturday, conveying thousands who will take part in the jollification there. Many from this city will be in attendance.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—W. Frank Hanley went to New Wilmington, Pa., this morning.

—William Sanor, of Pittsburg, was in the city last evening calling on friends.

—Mrs. John Brooks went to Akron this morning, where she will visit relatives.

—Robert C. Sayers, an insurance representative from Westervelt, is in the city on business.

—Joe Manor, Jack Harris, F. E. Grosshans and Adolph Joseph went to Beaver today to attend the Masonic picnic of that place, which is being held at Aliquippa.

McKINLEY MEN WON.

Decisions of National Committee on Credentials Adopted.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—The McKinley men secured control of the committee on credentials. A resolution offered by Hepburn of Iowa, one of Allison's managers, that the committee send for the papers in all contests, was lost. This practically insured the adoption of the resolution offered by Coan of Nebraska, a McKinley man, that the decisions of the national committee be accepted with the exception of Texas and Delaware, which were referred, was adopted. The Delaware and Texas contests were then taken up.

The committee finally elected John F. Fort of New Jersey chairman, J. E. Lambert of Kansas secretary, J. M. Gilbert of Washington assistant secretary and Smith of Wyoming sergeant-at-arms.

The Ohio member of the committee is A. C. Thompson; Pennsylvania, W. H. Andrews; West Virginia, O. W. O. Hardman; Maryland, Robert P. Gardner.

The Higgins faction of Delaware Republicans was decided to be regular by the committee on credentials by a vote of 31 to 17 and its delegates will represent the state in the convention.

McKINLEY A PALLBEARER.

Attended the Funeral of Julius Whiting Proposed Demonstration.

CANTON, O., June 17.—Governor McKinley left his home and the office where convention news was being received to attend the funeral of his old friend Julius Whiting. He was one of the pallbearers.

Otherwise he spent the day at home chatting with friends from Canton and a few callers from nearby towns and reading the Associated Press reports. A party of Clevelanders, representing the Tippecanoe club, came here to arrange for the demonstration to be made by the club in honor of the major's nomination. It is proposed to have from 40 to 50 cars in the sections which will be run from Cleveland to this city. Saturday, June 27, was chosen as the time best suited to the Cleveland men.

The project is to have the major speak soon after the arrival of the party here and responses are to be made by James Hoyt and Judge Dellenbaugh of Cleveland and addresses are also to be given by Judge Day, Judge Baldwin and Hon. Allen Carnes of this city. In the evening a monster parade is on the program.

JUDGE ROBINSON WILL PRESIDE

Nineteen Couple Are Weary of Married Life and Ask Separation at the Hands of the Court—A Budget of Interest From Lisbon.

LISBON, June 17.—[Special]—The jury that retired on Monday afternoon, for the purpose of finding a verdict in the case of Danemiller & Sons versus Florence M. Morgan, of Salem, was last evening called in by the court. A disagreement was entered and the jury was discharged.

The case brought by Duncan M. Dorsey against Mrs. O. J. Dorsey, the wife of his brother, of East Palestine, was tried to court yesterday afternoon, but no decision will be given for several days. A promissory note for $100 founded the action. Mrs. Dorsey gave a note five years ago, in order to keep her husband from state prison. In 1891 O. J. Dorsey was agent for the Domestic Sewing Machine company, and was arrested on a charge of embezzlement by his employers. The amount was paid by Duncan Dorsey, to secure his freedom, and the wife gave her note for the amount.

The case brought by F. H. Maneval, of East Palestine, against Samuel J. Kopf, to recover $5 on a delivery wagon, has been reported settled.

James C. Brewster's action to recover $500 insurance from the Columbian Mutual company for damages to his property from fire was dismissed from the files.

The court made the following assignment last evening for next week's work, and that of a part of the week beginning July 6, the intervening week commencing June 29. Judge Robinson, of Ravenna, will occupy the bench and dispose of an assignment of cases which will be prepared today.

The committee also gave a few recommendations to the board in regard to the maintenance and adoption of rules governing the library.

The library committee is a thing of the past, as the results of their labors were turned over to the board last night. They certainly deserve credit for the manner in which they have labored for the success of the plan, and will continue to receive subscriptions, although they do not now hold office. The directors will meet Friday evening in the library room, and effect a permanent organization.

MONEY IN HOLES.

Local Capital is Going After Oil—Excitement in Knoxville.

People residing between Somerset and Knoxville, a section in Jefferson county eight miles from this city, are wild with excitement because the oil fever is upon them.

The third well has already been drilled in the field, and the people are happy. Not a duster has come to light, every well flowing freely. The last hole was cased yesterday, and the flow shows 40 barrels. It is on the Alexander farm, adjoining the McGhie place, and is the best that has yet come in. The hole is 1,200 feet deep, and the Standard Oil company have a force at work bringing a pipe line from the Island creek field. The people have been watching the development with great care, and the excitement has extended to this city. A company is now in process of formation, and in a short time its agents will be hard at work leasing land and preparing for drilling. It has not yet been decided how many holes will be drilled, but the company will have enough money at hand to make extensive operations possible, provided the limits of the field have not yet been reached. In the section where oil is found the people believe they have a good thing, and staid old farmers, who were never known to be excited, are now brought to a high pitch by the prospect of sudden wealth.

BOOMING GREAT AMERICA.

A Swiss Journal Celebrates the Nation's Variegated Immensity.

One of the most amusing descriptions of America is that which recently appeared in The Nachrichten, Basle, Switzerland. It runs as follows: "America is a country in comparison to which Europe is a small peninsula. The United States is an empire by whose side the powers of Europe appear as petty states. America is the land of unmeasured capacity and dimensions, the land of dollars and electricity, the land where the plains are wider, the rivers greater, the waterfalls higher, the bridges longer, the express trains faster, the catastrophes more horrible, than in all Europe; the country where the buildings are taller, the rascals more numerous, the poor poorer, the millionaires richer, the thieves bolder, the murderers less bothered and educated people more rare than anywhere else. It is the land in which the truth is more false, the corsets tighter, disease more dangerous, corruption more common, insanity more systematic, the summer hotter, the winter more chilly, fire warmer and ice colder, time more costly, than in sleepy old Europe. The land where old men are younger and youths older, the niggers blacker and the whites yellower than elsewhere, the land of immeasurable natural resources and of the most prodigious avarice. In short, America is the land of the greatest contrasts, the craziest presumption, the most reckless hunt after the dollar. It is the land of everything colossal and unapproachable—the last of course form the American point of view."

Necessarily Slow.

An 8-year-old San Rafael boy was being lectured on obedience.

"I told you that you could play with the Wilson boys till 5 o'clock," said his mother. "Here it is 7 and you are just home. Why didn't you come when I told you?"

"I did, mamma."

"Don't tell me a falsehood. Why didn't you come home at 5 o'clock?"

"I started home at 5."

"Then you stopped to play on the way?"

"No, mamma; sure, I didn't."

"Do you expect me to believe that it took you two hours to walk half a mile? I think I shall have to punish you for telling me falsehoods."

"Honestly, I started home at 5 o'clock and came straight home."

The mother led the boy into the kitchen and took down a whip. He turned pale and tears welled up into his eyes.

"Now, sir, will you tell me the truth?"

"Yes, mamma; Charlie Wilson gave me a mud turtle—and I was afraid—to carry it—so I led it home."—San Francisco Post.

Do Diamonds Breed?

One of the queerest of the old time superstitions was the one that is responsible for the notion that pearls and diamonds "breed" like animals do. Rues says: "As for what I know concerning the reputed story that precious stones are divided into sexes, male and female, just as are plants and animals, and that they breed like the latter do, I relate the following, which came under my own knowledge: A certain princess of Luxembourg had two diamonds, the colors of which betokened that they were male and female. The princess laughed at the notion until one day she was startled by finding a tiny speck of a diamond in her casket. She put the two large diamonds and the little one away together, and they had a whole family in a reasonable course of time." A similar tale is also told by Boethius.—St. Louis Republic.

For the Grand Demonstration When the News Comes.

MUSIC, ORATORY AND FIREWORKS

Will be the Order of the Day—Bands Engaged to March in Procession—Local Speakers Will Make Addresses—The Event Will be a Memorable One.

From present indications, and judging from the action taken by the committee of the McKinley club, in conjunction with the Republican central committee, it is apparent that the demonstration to be held in honor of the selection of Ohio's favorite son as the standard bearer of the party this year will be a rousing one and full of old-time enthusiasm. The celebration will be practically the same as the program outlined in last Friday's issue of this paper.

The following members of the central committee will act with the committee of the club in taking charge of the demonstration: J. C. Kerr, M. Logan, George Grosshans, William Miller and James N. Hanley. Club committee: J. N. Simms, T. O. Timmons, W. J. Martin, William Beardmore, Warren McCain, John G. Powell, H. L. Simms, J. M. McGonigal and J. W. Finley. These committees have been instructed to make all necessary arrangements and prepare the program for the occasion.

A procession will be formed in the Diamond and the line of march will extend over the principal streets of the city. Two bands have been engaged to take part in the parade, and amid the glare of fireworks that will be profusely discharged along the route of march, excellent music will be discoursed. It was the intention at first to secure outside speakers to deliver addresses, but it is probable that the oratory will be furnished by local talent.

The demonstration will undoubtedly be the greatest ever held in this vicinity, and all those who are interested in the country's prosperity and Major McKinley's success should turn out, and by their efforts, assist in making the occasion one which can be referred to in the future with pride.

Special trains will be run into Canton Saturday, conveying thousands who will take part in the jollification there. Many from this city will be in attendance.

M'KINLEY MEN WON.

Decisions of National Committee on Contests Adopted.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—The McKinley men secured control of the committee on credentials. A resolution offered by Hepburn of Iowa, one of Allison's managers, that the committee send for the papers in all contests, was lost. This practically insured the adoption of the resolution offered by Coan of Nebraska, a McKinley man, that the decisions of the national committee be accepted with the exception of Texas and Delaware, which were referred, was adopted. The Delaware and Texas contests were then taken up.

The committee finally elected John F. Fort of New Jersey chairman, L. E. Lambert of Kansas secretary, J. M. Gilbert of Washington assistant secretary and Smith of Wyoming sergeant-at-arms.

The Ohio member of the committee is A. C. Thompson, Pennsylvania, W. H. Andrews, West Virginia, O. W. O. Hardman, Maryland, Robert P. Gardner.

The Higgins faction of Delaware Republicans was decided to be regular by the committee on credentials by a vote of 31 to 17 and its delegates will represent the state in the convention.

M'KINLEY A PALLBEARER.

Attended the Funeral of Julius Whiting Proposed Demonstration.

CANTON, O., June 17.—Governor McKinley left his home and the office where convention news was being received to attend the funeral of his old friend Julius Whiting. He was one of the pallbearers.

Otherwise he spent the day at home chatting with friends from Canton and a few callers from nearby towns, and reading the Associated Press reports. A party of Clevelanders, representing the Tippecanoe club, came here to arrange for the demonstration to be made by the club in honor of the major's nomination. It is proposed to have from 40 to 50 cars in the sections which will be run from Cleveland to this city, Saturday, June 27, was chosen as the time best suited to the Cleveland men.

The project is to have the major speak soon after the arrival of the party here and responses are to be made by James Hoyt and Judge Deffenbaugh of Cleveland and addresses are also to be given by Judge Day, Judge Baldwin and Hon. Allen Carnes of this city. In the evening a monster parade is on the program.
